Warmest greetings to you dear,

I know you will be surprised reading from me today but consider this a divine intervention. My name is Mrs. Anna Mares, a widow from the United States battling cancer.

I came across your email in my search for someone that can assist and use my money for charity, helping the poor and needy because my days are numbered according to the doctors.

I desire to entrust USD25,000,000 Million United States Dollars in your care. It is my last wish to use this money for charity hence I seek a person who shares the same views to actualize this because my health no longer permits me.

Please reply for further details about this charity project.

Remain Blessed,
Anna Mares.
